

PowerDVD Not Bundled with OEM Sound Card

Keywords / Key Phrases: powerdvd, power dvd

Retail products manufactured for Creative Labs sale and support are packaged in retail Creative Labs boxes marked with the Creative Labs logo. OEM (Original Equipment Manufacturer) products may have revisions or changes in either the hardware or the supporting software and documentation. Such revisions are often made at the request of the company for which the product is manufactured.

Creative Labs is not made aware of these changes and therefore cannot offer support. If your Creative product came pre-installed with your computer system, or you received your product in an unmarked box or shrink-wrapped, then it is very likely you have an OEM product.

Customers who are looking for the PowerDVD download, please take note that the PowerDVD software comes bundled with selected retail sound cards only. For OEM sound card owners, please check with the retailer to verify the package contents.
