

Unable to Record from Multiple Sources

Keywords / Key Phrases: record multiple audio sources, multiple audio source recording, recording multiple sources

You need to select "What U Hear" as the recording source to record multiple audio sources. For instructions to select "What U Hear" as the recording source, please refer to the article below:

Recording from Line In or Microphone with Sound Blaster

- Refer to the steps under Recording from multiple sources using "What U Hear"

You should be able to record sound from multiple sources. However, note that all sound heard from the speakers will be recorded. Thus it is recommended that you turn off the Windows sound and applications that output sound such as the instant messengers.
